MISCELLANEOUS. SATURDAY'S NEWS.

NO REST DAY OR NIGHT.

In the Fall of 1875 my sufferings were terrible imbs would hurst. I had the best medical talent obtainable, and at the worst stage of my illness when my husband and many friends had given me up to die, the late Dr. John Woodbury made : thorough examination of my water, and pronounce disease, and accompanied by gravel, and recom nended the immediate use of Hunt's Remedy. At his time I was suffering most terrible pain in my back, limbs and head, and could find no rest day or night for weeks, and I was growing weaker daily Remedy. Before taking half of one bottle I comnence I to improve, and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. This was nearly eight years ago, and I have had no return of the disease. I have ecommended Hunt's Remedy to others in similar cases, and it has never failed to cure. I have also used it for sick headache, and found it a sure relief. I think it the best medicine made, and cheerfully ecommend it to all. MRS. W. H. STILSON. No. 16 Tyler street, Boston, Mass. April 18, 1883.

A WELL-KNOWN MAN.

Hunt's Remedy having been recommended to me for kidney and liver complaints, I purchased some at the "People's Drug Store," and used it in my family, and found it to be a very valuable medi cine, and I gladly recommend it highly to my friends, knowing it to be beneficial to those troubled with kidney or liver disease. Respectfully yours, ELISHA NOYSE, April 14, 1883. 63 G street South, Boston, Mass.

A LAST MANUFACTURER. I have used Hunt's Remedy for the kidney con claint, and, having been fully restored to health by its use, I can testify to its value.

Daily I recommend it to some one of my friends, all of whom I know have been benefited by its use. Gratefully, GEO. P. COX.
Malden, Mass., Azril 23, 1883. n6-ly-MWF&wly

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

> Wm. P. Marshall, of Logansport, Indiana, writes: "My wife has for many years been troubled from pain in her back and general debility incident to her sex. She has taken one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, and I can truthfully say that she has been so much benefited that she pronounces it the only remedy of many medicines she has tried."

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bit-TERS. It has cured others suffering as you are and it will cure you.

F. S. DICKINSON, San Leandro, Cal., writes: 'We know of no article that gives greater satisfaction to those who use it, and we do not hesitate o recommend it." HADSELL & REED, Monterey, Cal., writes: "W ell, a great deal of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and find it to be a good mediine. We have just received a three dozen lot of it." B. B HUGHES, Quincy, Cal., says: "It is a 'No. 1' Cough and Celd Cure, and I have to keep it in stock all the time.'

CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.

Elbridge T. Gerry, in the "North American Review," has a timely article on cruelty to children and the work of the societies organized to prevent it. These organizations have had much to contend with, and all the opposition has been the outgrowth of remark by the essayist named, upon the engagement of children in trying public exhibitions. He says: "So long as persons of culture and refinement can derive pleasure from the performances of children without reflecting on the injury which those performances occasion the child, there is but little hope of public sentiment being enlisted against those practices. The glare of the footlights constitutes a dividing line between the false view entertained by the audience and the painful results concentrated in the person of the child, and sure to ensue. Yet reflecting people would hesitate to place their own children in a position where, night after night, such a constant strain would be put upon them, and the 'Golden Rule' seems to be entirely

A few of the scale found in all orchards, but in one or two the efforts to exterminate them has been so successful that hardly any infested fruit could be seen upon the trees. The remedies used were banding the trees and killing the worms that gather under the bands; collecting the fruit from the ground which falls from worm effects, and, together with picking such as is found upon the trees which show the worms' presence, and feeding the same to hogs to destroy them. The pear slug was found in considerable numbers at all points, but no great damage was seen resulting from them. They are quite generally kept subdued in that section, as the orchardists have found they can do so by throwing dry earth or dust through the taps of the trees. The fruit yield along the river is about the average, and the orchards just now present lively scenes of fruit-pickers.

ANOTHER SHOOTING SCRAPE,

Last week there was a shooting scrape on Second street, in which a man was seriously if not fatally wounded. Although it occurred in the early part of the evening, and in one of the most populous portions of the city, no arrests were made. On Friday night hood of Twentieth and M streets, met in People," that locality. They had been imbibing pretty freely of beer at a neighboring "groggery," and were what is termed "pretty full."
While they were discussing the price of hops and its probable effect on the price of beer, two of them got into a quarrel and agreed to settle their difficulty according to the rules of the prize ring. The third individual, whose name is Johnnie Ryan, sought to separate the boys, and endeavored to act as a peacemaker. His efforts to senarate the combatants were few feet he drew his pistol and fired. The ball took effect in the cnin of — Martinez, better known as "Jesus," inflicting an ugly though not dangerous wound. The firing of the shot apparently had the desired effect, as the boys immediately stopped fighting and the wounded individual was taken to a neighboring corner grocery, when the ball was found lodged in his mouth and extracted therefrom without much trouble. This shooting scrape, like the one first spoken of, has also been hushed up, and the officers apparently have no knowledge of it whatever. Here were three violations of the law—carrying concealed weapons, discharging firearms within the city limand now wants a one, discharging firearms within the city limits, and an attempt to commit murder. The ity of Sacramento at this time is overrun with tramps, hooliums and opium fiends, who prowl about at all hours of the day and night, and are the terror of the people who reside in the suburbs and on the outskirts of the city. They carry pistols, knives and other murderous weapons, and are insolent and insulting to women and children. In fact they have become so numerous that it is not safe BOARD OF HEALTH,—The City Board of for women without escorts to be on the streets Health held a regular meeting Saturday after night, and not unfrequently those

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I should never die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed. I am now well. HONEYSUCKLES, Stretched idly, in recumbent ease, Upon the green and velvet grass, Through leaves of over-arching trees, I watch the fleecy cloudlets pass. There, to the right, the roses blush; And on the left are rich perfumes; But sweetest incense seems to gush From where the honeysuckle blooms.

And from its honey-laden breath—
Food for the fairy humming bird—
Remembrance springs, as life from death,
And thoughts of other days are stirred. Back to my youth my fancies flee; I seem to hear glad voices swell, And through half-closed eyes to see The honeysuckle by the well. The farm house porch, the open door

The garden walks, the orchard bars, The welcome heard on earth no more, But whispered to me from the stars-All these, and more, I see and hear, And pleasant dreams my sense enthralls,
While over and around me here
The honeysuckle's fragrance falls.

THE CARE OF CANARIES.

The greatest favorite among birds appears to be the canary. The best singing pears to be the canary. The best singling imputation varieties—which is a member of the finch York Journal. amily—are imported from Germany, principally from the Hartz mountains, where For the relief and prevention, the instant it is applied, of they are bred by the peasantry by the hundred, Coughs, Collès, Weak Back, Stomach and Bewels, Shooting Pains, Numbness, Hysteria, Female Pains, Palpitation, Dyspepeia, Liver Complaint, Billious Fever, Malaria and Epidemics, use Collins' Plasters (an Electric Battery combined). had its orign in the Canary Islands, where its color is of a greenish gray. It was first Kidney Wort and you will feel like a new dermany, were greatly improved by raising them in rooms where other birdsuch as nightingales, woodlarks, skylarks, and the like-were commonly kept. They would take some notes from each bird, and by mixing these notes the canary has attained the beautiful and varied song transmitted to its descendants. When the composed song of the canary was thought completed the use of other birds was not deemed requisite, as the young ones learned from their parents.

Instead of a succession of noisy notes, the bird should know how, with a silvery sonorous voice, to descend regularly through all the tones of the octave, and the whole song should consists of about twenty notes, the most admired of which are the bow-trill, the bell note and woodlark note. To raise such birds the breeder must be a good judge himself, and must not put together birds having unpleasant notes. He should also keep one or two of his very best singers in separate cages near the breeding-room or cage, which will be the teachers of the young. From the 1st of June, 1882, to the end

May this year, 95,000 canaries were imported into New York, of which one firm bought 85,000. The two varieties most prized by amaeurs are the Jonquil and the Meally, combining the greatest beauty in color and terials and erecting the new additional Buildings to the State Insane Asylum at Stockten will be received at the office of N. M. ORR, Secretary of the Board of Directors of the State Insane Asylum, at Stockten, California, until 10 o'clock A. M. of higher price, owing to the difficulty in preeding them. This leads many people to believe that they must consequently be much better singers, but such is not the fact, for the song is much inferior to the other. The price of male canaries varies ecording to the size, age and song-from $2 50 up to $25 each—and for females from 5 cents to $1.

The capary, as a domesticated bird, is he easiest of all to take care of. The reatment they require is the most simple and certainly the best known, but there are many persons whose ideas on this subect are very limited, and, what is worse, ery erroneous. As to their food, the more imple and natural it is the better and more conducive to good health and cheer-TOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT, IN ACcordance with the terms of the Bonds issued by the Pacific Bolling Mill Company, the Directors of said Company have determined by lot the numbers to be redeemed at its office, No. 202 Market the state of t spoils their taste for their natural food, weakens the stomach, renders them feeble, sickly and incapable of bearing moulting. under which they frequently die. The best food is a mixture of rape and canary and a little green stuff, such as chickweed, lettuce, or cabbage in season, or sweet apple in winter. The main point, however, is to obtain pure and fresh seed. Rape seed, when old or kept too long in a damp place, becomes musty, gets a bitter taste, and does not agree with the birds. The best sort is the German summer rape, which has a nut-like flavor in distinction om the English, which tastes something ke mustard. The canary seed should be musty smell and have a sweet taste.

The perches should be kept clean. The bird's feet should be occasionally examined, and if they are found dirty the bird should be taken carefully out of the cage and the dirt washed off by soaking in lukewarm water. The claws, if too long, should be cut with a pair of sharp scissors, care being taken not to draw blood; the same with an overgrown bill.

Canaries, if kept for singing alone, should be placed in cages of about a foot in diameter, either round or square, as in larger cages they do not sing so well or so constantly, having too much room to fly about and amuse themselves, which takes away their attention from singing. It is not necessary to keep these birds in a very warm room in winter, as they can endure a great deal of cold without injury, but they should not be removed from a cold room to a warm one, or vice versa, but be

THE ENGAGED GIRL.

Engaged young ladies are the prescribed wall-flowers of society. The vast majority of them are pretty, or they would not be engaged; but how many of them wear out their beauty in the vain hope that engagement will mean marriage, and that marriage will mean marriage, and that marriage will mean marriage, and that marriage will mean happiness. Every girl who goes to balls and parties, to the opera and race meetings, to Saratoga, or on one of the fashionable steamers to Europe, can tell you that should one of these doomed ones attract attention of the other sex sufficiently to provoke an inquiry as to her name and station, it is enough to kill all interest in her to answer: "That's Miss So-and-so. She's engaged!" As for the engaged one, if she be a faithful sweetheart, she is bound to consider herself as somebody labeled and ticketed and to consider herself as somebody labeled and ticketed and to consider herself dense, southeast corner of Seventh and N streets, in Bryte's new building, up tairs. Knowing the irrational jealousy of man, she devotes all her thoughts to appearing above the constant of the consta BREAMS, LANGUOR, DEF TESSION, Etc. as somebody labeled and ticketed and her thoughts to appearing above the sus-picion of flirtation—or even above the aspicion of taking the remotest interest any other male human being other than he who has laid a first and second mortgage on her, and may be flourishing a free oot and a fellow to it at the very moment she is pining in the metaphorical but tangible weed of widowhood. If she be, on the other hand, what is termed a 'lively" girl, and cannot understand why a young lady who is engaged should make a social mummy of herself, and mixes innocently, but joyously, in the ordinary pleasures of girls of her age, she is open to the basest misconstruction of her own sex —and will surely incur it. There is not a —and will surely incur it. There is not a society girl who reads these lines who cannot call to mind an instance in her own circle of acquaintance where the conduct of a follow female of her coteries—innocent circle of acquaintance where the conduct of a fellow female of her coterie—innocent enough in itself-has not been stigmatized by persons of her own age and sex as "outrageous," simply because she had the misfortune to be "engaged."

Even the wife is more free from espionage than the engaged girl. The wife, at all events, has the fact to fall back upon that she has a husband. He is supposed to be, and in the vast majority of cases is, the best judge of what his wife ought to do and say, and where she ought to go, and with whom, whether he is along or not. Any person, therefore, who runs the risk offending the wife, makes a certainty of offending the husband, and it is this fact which makes the society and the conversation and even the presence of young married women so delightful in American social life. With the engaged girl, who is tied up equally as tight domestically, and infinitely more so socially, the case is very different. The mere fact that she is engaged brings

Swift's Specific

Is not a triumph of Science, but is a revelation through the instinct of the untutored savage, and is a complete antidote to all kinds of Blood Poison and Skin Humor.

Swift's Specific has cured me of Scrofula, which is hereditary in my family. I have suffered with it for many years, and have tried a great many physicians and all sorts of treatment, but to no purpose; and when I began to take Swift's Specific I was in a horrible condition; but thanks to this great remedy, I am rid of the cisease There is no doubt that it is the greatest medicine in existence, and I hope any who doubt will write to me.

E. C. HAWES, JR.,

Clarksville, Ga.

After suffering twenty-five years with a painful Dry Tetter, and trying many physicians, I was at last relieved by the use of Swift's Specific, and I cheerfully commend it to all similarly afflicted.
